Notes:

1.Administrative Procedure Act Article 51:

Unless otherwise provided by law, an administrative authority shall establish and announce by a public notice the time periods required for processing various categories of applications filed by the people under law and regulations.

In the absence of processing time period established and announced under the preceding paragraph, the processing time period shall be two months.

Where an administrative authority is unable to complete the process within the time period established in pursuance of the two preceding paragraphs, the process may be extended to the extent of the original processing time period, but for once only.

In the circumstance referred to in the preceding paragraph, the applicant shall be notified of such extension prior to the expiration of the original processing time period.

Where an administrative authority is prevented from processing its business by an act of God or any other event not attributable to it, the processing time period shall stop running until the discontinuation of such event.

2.The above time frames do not cover the processing time needed for other government agencies and the time for informing the applicants of submitting the supplementary or corrected documents.

3.The above time frames do not cover consecutive holidays.
